

July 12, 1961 was a dark day for Pune. The Panshet Dam gave way and almost the entire city reeled under the resultant floods. It's 60 years today that this disaster rocked our beloved city.

It was Maharashtra Chamber of Commerce that not only designed immediate, short-term, and long-term relief measures, but also played a major role in implementing them.

Article in 'Sampada' MCCIA Monthly Publication – September 1961 edition

https://mcciapune.com/media/printmedia/Sampad_Panshet_1961.pdf

Mentions about the incident in other publications:

https://mcciapune.com/media/printmedia/Sampada_Oct_1980.pdf

https://mcciapune.com/media/printmedia/Mothi_Manse.pdf

https://mcciapune.com/media/printmedia/Sampada_May_2005.pdf